

The First People—Archaeology

This gallery represents Michigan's unwritten history from its earliest known inhabitants until around 1620 when Europeans arrived. Archaeological findings and reproductions displayed here include projectile points, the atlatl and pottery. A time line above the cases indicates the approximate dates of the periods and civilizations.